Comparing the Pells.

Section 6th, chapter 3d, of the laws of this State passed at the 2d extra session of 1861, provides that the Sheriff or other returning officer of the Counties of each Congressional District shall attend on Wednesday next after each election at the following places to compare the votes: At Plymouth, in the 1st District.

At Greenville, in the 2d District. At Warsaw, in the 3d District. At Lumberton, in the 4th District. At Franklinton, in the 5th District.

At Greensborough, in the 6th District. At Troy, in the 7th District.

At Coolotte, in the 8th District.
At Will esberough, in the 9th District.
At Asheville, in the 10th District, burides that it any returning efthe place of meeting, on Wednesday, his returns shall be received on the day following.

The ordinance of the Convention amending the ordinance providing for soldier' voting, passed in May, 1862, provides that the proper returning officers of every County in this State shall include in their returns the votes of officers and soldiers given in any election in which they may be entitled to vote by law, if received within enty days after they are cast; and the their returns and declare the result of said ections until the expiration of twenty days as aforesaid.

And the act of the called session of the Legislature, passed July 7th, 1863, provides that when any place appointed by the existing laws for the sheriffs to meet and compare the votes for members of Congress in said Districts shall be in the possession of the enemy, the sheriffs or other returning officers in said District may meet at any other place in said District and compare the polls, and declare who is elected, under the same rules and regulations es are now provided by law.

As the ordinance referred to does not expressly repeal he act of the Legislature in regard to the day on which the sheriffs of the different Districts are to meet to compare the votes, we learn that it is the opinion of legal gentlemen, who have been consulted on the subject, that they should meet on the decine as pare the votes as far as received; and if it shall appear that all the votes from the army have not been received, they should provide for another meeting at the tion of twenty days from the ay on which the votes polled may be embraced in the It is evident that the ordinance of the Convention was passed with particular reference to the voting for Governor and members of Assembly, which was to take place the following summer, and that its effect upon the act of the Leg. islature above referred to, was not adverted to. But as it embraces in general terms the voting for members of Congress, it is necessary to construe it with reference to that also, and as repealing it only as far as it may do so by express words .- Raleigh

Recipe for Persimmon Brandy.

Put the persimmon in common tubs. mash them well with your hands or small pestles, then add enough of water to fill it, then stir or churn it well Fermentation will begin at once in temperate weather. and they should be distilled in five or six days. They will make about half a gallon to the bushel. I have made three runs--distilling in seven to ten days, after putting up, and they did well. Many others waited two or three weeks, and made nothing but sour, disagreeable water. I am thus convinced that they should be distilled even sooner than I did. The distillation is the same as for other brandies or whiskey. But another important item is, to save the seeds of the persimmons after they have boiled, and you let out the slop, for they are excellent for coffee, rather stronger or rougher than the genuine Rio; hence I mix two parts of dried potatoes to one of persimmon seed. Dr. Buck says this coffee is equal to Java coffee. By the boiling the seeds are rid of all mucillaginous substances, and just right for coffee or buttons, If you use them for buttons the washerwoman will hardly break them with her battling stick. For Coffee they should be parched twice as long as any other substitute, so as to make them tender to the cen-ter. ALABAMA.

SURSINDER OF A TORY .- Among the prisoners received at Castle Thunder on dnesday, was one J. W. Wagoner, a private of company 1, 28th North Carolina Intantry, from which he deserted, and became a Lieutenant in a tory camp, com manded by his brother, in Yadkin county. N. C. He surrendered himself upon condition that his life should be spared, but agreeing that he should be otherwise severely punished .- Richmond Sentinel.

Marketing.

It seems by the annexed from lumbus Trans that the good people of the consequence of It seems by the annexed from the Cotown are as bad off in consequence want of a Market House as are the of Charlotte.

The stricle from the Trans osed upon the people of Columbus report the precise state of curately that things in Charlotte.

It is true a Contract has been made for the army vote was cast, in order that all the erection of a Market House in Charlotte, but as it has not been commenced and no one knows when it will be, we think, other reforms should be made which will check those who are in the habit of doing what has been so correctly described by the Times as being practiced in Columbus All articles of produce and meats ought to be driven to the public square before sales are commenced. If this is not done those who prefer halting on the au berbs of the town to traffic with hucksters and negroes ought to be marked. A reform is absolutely necessary. But, to the arricle referred to and see how nicely it pictures Charlotte and the condadt of certain persons.

PUBLIC MARKET.-Perhaps no city of equal population to ours, in the Cenfeder-ate States, is without a place of sale for all produce of the country and meats of various kinds by the buthers. Columbus, with a population of over ten thousand. nearly all of whom depend upon market. ing for daily supplies, in without one. Every one takes the chances of gettingrap at the huckster's wagon or at the meat shops. The consequence is that very many go unsatified. We remarked, a few days since, that there should be system in this, as in all other public affairs,-There are certain localities in our city, as in all other cities, where a vegetable or meat wagon searcely ever visits; at least, not until the choice parts of their stock in trade have been culled over-then the refuse is hawked around for the poorer class of our people. This we regard as a great injustice and can only be remedied by the establishment of a public market, to which all will be required to go, and sell until 10 o'clock each day.

There is another reason why we should have a public market : Our city is infested with thieves who think very little of knocking down a hog, or other stock, and then cart it around for sale. There is no way to deject such lawless proceedings, except by allaw compelling all fresh means offered for sale in the city to be effered at a designated point, where each one can, if necessary, establish his right to sell what he offers. Fowls of all descriptions are of ready sale, and at huge prices; hence, we often hear of missing chickens. It is expected that there will be important movement in this direction at some future day, as our near proximity to Burnside's army mus naturally suggest. The health of our men, considering their late exposure to cold rains, is very good. The most of the men now in our army have exposure lo cold rains, is very good. DEVELOPMENT.

Under the above caption the Herald, in an editorial article, states that Rosecrans, in a public speed, at the Merchant's Exchange, in Cincinnati, on the 26th ultimo, said that "if the lorger recently sent to Chattaneoga had been ordered there before, as they ought to have been, the back bone of the rebellion would ere this have been broken."

INSENUITY OF OUR LADIES - We have been somewhat surprised as well as gratified, at seeing the many handsome and elegant dresses still worn by our tadies, notwithstanding, the blockade, and have been not a little puzzled to know where they came from We were fully aware that there were but few if any really fine dress goods exposed to sale by our en'erprising merchants, and even had there been, the noted trugality of our ladies, as telt, would prevent their wearing them. When our perplexity had reached its highest, a lady friend relieved it, by informing us that many of these dresses were old ones, turned and altered; and we confess we should never have known it, and doubt whether even the ladies, themselves, who are noted for their discernment, would have recognized them. Many of those bought nowadays are of sombre and grave colors, but are so trimmed and bedecked with cord and other trimmings as to greatly relieve the grave appearance which they would otherwise present

We admire and commend the taste and ingenuity of the ladies thus displayed, but above all, which actuates and enables them to bear the privations they have to encounter in these perilous times, while their husbands and brothers are battling and striving for the independence of the bright sunny South. In this, as in their many deeds of charity, and watchful attention to the sick and wounded soldier, do we see their noble, self sacrifising patriotism. Even the little girls seem to be imbued with the same high and lofty spirit their mothers evince and cheerfully glide along in their childish sports, reckoning of the time when the war will end, and they can again go forth, canary like, proud of the beauty of their plumage. We sincerely sympathize with these little creatures in the privations imposed upon them by the mean Yankees-tor nothing gives us more pleasure than to see handsomely dressed misses promenading and admiring, yet vieing with one another as to who has the most beautiful and neatest fitting dress. The grave colors they are now compelled to wear give them a decidedly matronly appearance, and even seem to cast a cloud over their once bright and smiling countenances. We bid them only look upon the bright side of the horrible panorama now passing before them and to be of good cheer, as bright, happy days will yet come, and we hope at no distant period, when they will not only be able again to deck themselves in many charming colors, but to know and feel that, while they were undergoing a few petty privations, their fathers and brothers were engaged in winning the blessed peace they will then enjoy .- Columbus Enquirer,

An Old Woman's Charges on Gen. Forrest.

It is well known that for ten days previous to the battle of Chickamauga, Gen. Forrest was busily engaged in skirmishing with Rosecrans's advance forces as far south os Tunnel Hill. At this point Crittenden's command, 15,000 strong, was feeling its way cautiously, and being constantly picked off from trees on and Hill a large body of federals moved up, and Forrest, who had at the time only 400 men with him, ordered them to fall back in double quick. Here they met an old woman, riding a gray "critter," who, feeling indignant at what she considered a rather hasty back step of the rebels, pulled off her sun bonnet, and galloped up to Gen, Forrest where he was placing some men in ambush, and railed Why don't you fight? Where are you running to? Who are you aleard of?"

The General seeing and hearing the old lady calling so hard, said in his quiet, cool way, "Madam, you had better ride back you may get hurt."
"Hurt! Den't care if I do. I won't run.

I wish to God old Forrest was here. .He'd make you stand, and fight too.' So saying, she dashed on in the direction of the federals, who soon came in range of the guns of the men who had just been concealed, when down came four or five of the yankee advance. The old lady tacked, and came galloping back and in a halt-cry said, "My God, I never did see the like! them men are just killing one another like hogs!'

"Every body will get killed;" and on she rode, but a few paces when her critter received a shot in the neck, and was dead in a few moments. The old lady, by the assistance of some soldiers, got her bridle and saddle off, and shouldering them put out home on foot, crying as she went, "gracious me everybody will get killed." -[Atlanta Confederacy.

COTTON FROM NASSAU.-The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, of the 16th Septema

ber, says: We notice that there has been a further arrival of American cotton from Nassau. Two vessels have been reported, one the Ella, Captain Carter, has brought 2180 bales of Upland, and 47 bales Sea Island consigned to Mesers. Fraser, Trenholm & Co. It seems, however, that any further immediate supply from that quarter must not be looked for, as when the Ella left Nassau there was very little cotton there.

The Journal of the 5th of September,

From Nassau we have had tour arrivals; the Billow Crest, with 341 bales: the Liffey, with 215 bales; the Lilian, with 740 bales; and the Bloomer, whose cargo cannot be ascertained, From Matamoras we have 669 bales per St. George, and a quantity by the Eather. From Balize, the West-bourne has brought 213 bales, the first, like that from Nassau, and Matamoras, of the blockade runners, From the West Indies, both the screw steamer, Christoval Colon and Boetia, have brought a number of bales, but having arrived so recently, the quantity cannot be ascer-

His Excellence Governor Vance arrived here on Friday evening, and on Sunday went down to the headquarters of the Gen-eral, to satisfy himself fully as to the "situation." The Governor is a military man, knows the country thoroughly, and all his energies are enlisted in the work of expelling and punishing the enemy. Shouldn't be supprised if somebody "gets hurt" before long.

P. S. The latest information from the front, is to the effect that our forces under Capt. Boone were again in possession of the Springs, at 11 o'clock on Monday night. Caps. Boone remained after the cavalry left, and saved all the wagons,-Asheville News.

PRAYER OF THE EXTORTIONER .- We have sometimes wondered whether the extortioner ever prayed. We should like to hear his prayer, or rather to read the ses crets of his heart, while ostensibly engaged in the holy exercise. His words, interpolated with his thoughts, would be something like what follows:

Our Father who art in Heaven-I wonder what will be the price of wheat this season. My crop is fine, very fine, I think I might get at least four dollars for it, I should like to get ten—Hallowed be Thy name—It the season continues I shall make a tremendous crop of corn, and as my cribs are now sufficient to last me for two years, it will be a clear profit—Thy kingdom come—Chickens are a great institution, Before the war I used to sell them for ten cents, now I get two dollars for them. I won't sell my corn to the soldier's relief society. They don't give enough-as it is done in Heaven. That old steer brought me two hundred dollars. Give us this day our daily bread-my poor neighbor who has a poor husband in the army, and six little children at home, must find it hard to get along. The lord bless her and hers. Forgive us our tresspasses as we forgive those that tresspass against us—my old friend Smith was rather hard on me when he said I gouged the poor, but I forgive him-and lead us not into temptation-I am afraid our pastor's prosperity will prove a snare to him. Why brother Jones sent him a cow and a calf—but deliver us from evil. I wish our preacher would quit preaching on extortion. It he don't I will stop subscription. He is really an evil. He won't let a body be at peace-for thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, forever and ever. I believe I will send some milch cows to Atlanta. I hear they are bringing tremendous prices. The merchants there do charge awful for their goods. Lord have tioners-Amen.

A SOUTH CAROLINA NEGRO IN NEW YORK.—A chaplain who, having been left behind with the wounded of Gettysburg, was carried to New York, says that but a few of the negroes captured at Gettysburg took the oath of allegiance to the Yankees. Most of them steadily refused to work or fight for Lincoln. He relates the following conversation between Gen. Morris, U. S. A., and Titus, a negro from South Carolina:

Morris-Well, Titus are you willing to enlist and fight for liberty under the stars and stripes?

Titus-No sir; you may shoot me fust, and den I won't fight 'ginst my Govern-Morris-Well, Titus, they are going to Morris-On, pshaw! your Government's played out;" your money's worthless. Titus—Dat's all you know about it; de money's jist as good in the Souf as 'tis in

GENERAL THOMAS .- " Personne," in his last letter to the Courier, from Lookout Mountain, says:

The appointment of General Thomas as the successor of General Rosecrans, appears to afford satisfaction throughout the army, and to none more than to General Bragg. Thomas was his first Lieutenant in Mexico; before the war he was a rabid secessionist; since the war he has become a radical abolitionist; and may be summed up mentally and phisically in the language of Gen. Bragg, as "a brave, slow, obstinate and perverse man."

FROM THE TRANS-MISSISSIPPI -A letter to an employee of the Marietta Confederate, just received from Camden, Ark., states that Gen. Price had been reinforced by troops from Red river, to the number of seven thousand, and would soon advance upon the enemy. Camden was designated as the place of rendezvous for the Arkansas troops captured at Port Hudson and Vicksburg. We presume that some, it not all the reinforcements consisted of these exchanged prisoners, who croosed the Mississippi near the mouth of Red river.

THE TRUE GENTLEMAN. - The following sketch is called the portrait of a true gentleman, found in an old Manor House, in Gloucestershire, writer and framed and hung over the mantlepiece of a tapistried sitting room :

The true gentlemain is God's servant, the world's master and his own man; virtue is his business, study his recreation, conteniment his rest, and happiness his reward; God is his tather, the Church is his mother, the saints his brethren, all that need him, his riend; devotion is his chaplain, charity his chamberlain; sot riety his butler, temperance his cook, hospitality his housekeeper, Providence his steward, charity his treasure, piety mistress of the house, and discretion his porter to let him in or out as most fit. This is the whole family, made of virtues, and he is the trne master of the house He is necessitated to take the world on his way to heaven; but he walks through it as fast as he can, and all his business by the way is to make himself and others happy. Take him in two words—a man and a Christian.

A call is published in the Texas papers, for a "war meeting," to be held at Houston. In announcing the fact, the Teleegraph says:

The people of Texas are not ready to "eat dirt" yet, and they must declare so to the world. We have thousands of patriots in the armies, but the patriots are not all there, and they must show so to the world. Who of us is ready to accept lite with a servitude to a taskmaster more exacting than those of Egypt? It any, let him step forth that the people may see how disgusting such craven heartedness ap-

BY THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA. A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, a number of public meetings have recently been neld in various portions of the State, in some of which threats have been made of combined resistance to the execution of the laws of Congress, in regard to conscription and the collection of laxes, thereby endangering the public peace and tranquility as well as the common cause of independence, which we have so solemnly engaged to detend: And whereas, it is my sworn duty to see all the laws of the land laithfully executed, and quiet and order maintained within our bor-

Now, therefore, I, ZEBULON B. VANCE, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do issue this my Proclamation, commanding all such persons to renounce such evil intentions, and warning them to beware of the criminal and fatal consequences of carrying such threats into execution.

The inalienable and invaluable right of the people to assemble together and consult for the common good, together with its necessary concomitants, the treedom of speech and the press, are secured to you, my countrymen, by the most sacred com-pacts. They shall never find a disturber in me. Yet you will remember that the same instruments which guarantee these great rights, also limit you to the exercise of them, within the bounds of law, and impose upon me the solemn duty of seeing that these bounds be not transgressed - The Constitution of the Confederate States The Constitution of the Confederation and all laws passed in pursuance thereof are the supreme law of the land ance to them by combination is treason, and without combination, is a high crime against the laws of your country. Let no one be deceived. So long as these laws remain upon the statue book they shall be executed. Surely, my countrymen, you would not seek to care the evils of one revolution by plunging the country into another. You will not knowingly, to the present desolating war with the common enemy, add horrors of internal strile and entire subversion of law and civil authority! You must not forget the enviable character which you have always maintained, as a sober, conservative and law-abiding people; nor would I have you to torget the plain, easy and constitutional method of-re-dressing your grievances. Meet and de-nounce any existing laws, it you think proper—you have that right—and instruct your representatives in Congress or the State Legislature, as the case may be; to reped them, Your own chosen servants made those obnoxious laws-they can rehealthem, il such are your instructions. It you regard them as unconstitutional, our Supreme Court sits ready to decide upon all cases properly brought before it. Its decisions are final in the State of North Carotina, and shall be executed while the power remains in your Executive to entorce any law made, but can be most beneicially effected in the way our farthers marked out by the ballot box, and the other constitutionally appointed means. In of our people. It is my great desire, and, I hope, that of all good cuizens, that our people should remain united, betall us what may. Should we triumph in the great struggle for independence, let no reelings of revenge, po bitterness, mar the rejoicing of that glorions day. Should we tall, and come short of that great object for which we have struggled so long and bled so freely, let not our strikes and domestic feeds add to the bitterness of defeat, times of great public sensibility like the present, any departure from this legal channel is revolutionary and dangerous, and tends to the division and destruction

Attempt suddenly to change the existing order of things would only result in blood-shed and ruin. I therefore implore you, my countrymen, of all shades of political opinion, to abstain from assembling together for the purpose of denouncing each other, whether at home or in the army, and to avoid seeking any remedy for the evils of the times by other than legal means and through the properly constituted authorities. We are embarked in the holiest of all causes which can stir the hearts of patriots-the cause of liberty and independence. We are committed to it by every tie that can bind and honorable peo-ple. Multitudes of our bravest and best have already sealed it with their blood, whilst others, giving up all earthly possessions, are either languishing in dungeous sions, are either languishing in dange or are homeless wandering through land, and all have lelt, in a greater or less degree, the iron hand of war. A great and glorious nation is struggling to be born and wondering kingdoms and distant empires are stilled with listening hope and admiration, watching this greatest of human evente. Let them not, I pray you, be shocked with the spectacle of domestic strite and petty, malignant teuds. Let not our enemy be rejoiced to behold our strong arms and stronger devotion which have of ten made him tremble, turned against ourselves. Let us rather show that the God of Liberty is in His Holy Temple-the hearts of freemen-and bid all the petty bickering of earth keep silence before Him. Instead or engaging in this unholy and unpatriotic strife and threatening to resist the laws of the land and endangering the peace of society, let us prepare diligently and with hopeful hearts for the hardships and sufferings of the coming winter.-Heaven has blessed us with abundant crops, but thousands of our poor are unable to purchase. Let us begin in time and use every effort to provide for them and secure them against suffering. And let us exert ourselves to the utmost to return to duty the many brave but misguided men who have left their country's flag in the hour of danger, and God will yet bless us and our children, and our children's children will thank us fo not despairing of the

shall we Have an Eight Years' War? From the New York World.]

Is the Union worth an eight years' war ?

Except for illustration, this is an idle interrogatory; for it is certain that the war cannot last eight years on its present gi-gantic scale without engulphing the country in hopeless bankruptcy.

The war has already lasted two years and six months, and in that time we have accumulated a national debt amounting to about $2,000,000,000. Each year of the war must cost more than the year next preceding, for the constantly increasing inflation of the currency will cause a corresponding increase in the cost of military supplies. with the same number of men in the field it is probable that, taking one year with another, at least thirty per cent, will be annually added to the cost of supporting the war. A simple calculation will show the impossibility of the war continuing eight years without bankrupting the nation. It may fairly be doubted whether it can continue five years from its com-mencement, or double its present duration, without prostrating the credit of the Gov-

It is clear that a war even for the Union cannot be indefinitely prolonged, and consequently an administration which spends much and accomplishes little, will, if contiqued in power, bankrupt the nation, and fail to restore the Union at last.

"The Union at any cost!" is a wellsounding cry till you come to examine it. Do we want the Union at the expense of national honor? Ought we to purchase the Union by national bankruptcy? We are shocked by such questions; we recoil from the alternative they present. But it the thought of either part of the alternative is intolerable, what shall we say of an administration that is so managing the war as to threaten us with the accamulated horrers of both! It the war continues to be mismanaged as it has been-that is to sav, if the Republican party continues in power another tour years we shall have a nation bankrupted and dishonored, without the compensation of a Union restored.

"But the war has made considerable progress." If you only look at the credit side of your balance sheet, and shut your eyes to the debit side, you may easily tane ey yourself rich. It may be satisfactory to have an omelet on your breakfast table; but it you have said enough for the omelet to buy a house and lot, you have really show for your mone proportion to the number of men called into service and the amount of debt accumulated, the Administration have ac complished very little. "Washington is "-and so is Richmond. "Vicksburg is ours' but a cry comes from all the Western cities that the Mississippi is no more open to commerce than when Vickeburg was in passession of the enemy.

The Army at the Cumberland River is in Chattanooga" .- but it was driven there defeated, and stands on the defensive -The Administration has called successive. ly for 75,000 men; for 500,000 men to end the war early by a single overpowering ettort ; for 300,000 mon to save Washington and repel the invading rebels; for 300,000 men again to serve nine months and end the war within that time beyond a peradventure; for 300,000 men still again to replace the nine months men who were mustered out, with Washington again men-aced and the North again invaded; and now the President calls for still another 300,000 men, to be allowed for, he tells us. on a future draft!

Unless the war makes a more rapid progress, in proportion to the colossal scale of our expenditures, our resources will give ont before rebels give up. We shall have lost the knife, and have flung the handle after it.

GOOD NATURED PEOPLE .- Southerners are the best natured people in the world. They are charitable to a fault, and are benevolent beyond measure. Does a Yankee abolitionist wish to replenish his pockets, and serve the cause of Lincoln at the same time. Let him come South, put on a decent suit of clothes, talk vociferously about the "glorious cause of Southern independence," and apply for some posiindependence," and apply for some posi-tion of honor and profit. He is sure to re-ceive it. The "so called" Confederate States presents an inviting field for Yan-kee enterprise. Positions, from that of a Lieutenant General in the army, down to a clerkship in a newspaper office, may be hed for the asking. We "Confeds," verify the ecriptural injunction of returning good for evil, in most cases where a Yan-kee is concerned,—Col. Sun.

CHARLOTTE:

Priday Morning, November 13, 1863.

Special Attention.

A rare chance is offered this day, by 5. A. Harris, Esq., to those in want, to supply themselves with valuable household and kitchen furniture, at the residence of Hon. Geo. Davis. See advertisement.

The Example is Being Adopted.

A few weeks since a play was adopted, after consultation with some of our fellowcitizens residing in Charlotte, to raise funds for purchasing provisions, &c., to supply the poor and provide for the wants of the laboring population without detriment to our farmers.

The plan is working admirably and will soon, and effectually, drive off that class of persons who speculate for the purpose of extorting exharbitant prices.

At Atlanta, Ga., a similar plan is being adopted, and we notice that a similar arrangement is being made in Columbia, S C., where a meeting of the citizens was to have taken place last evening.

The example and plan inaugurated by the citizens of Charlotte, we hope, will be adopted in every community throughout the South, for it cannot fail to work to the advantage of the poor and the laboring men of the country.

The Commissary Department of "The Laboring Man's Relief Association," for Charlotte, has been opened at the Store next to Messrs. Moody & Pritchard, under the supervision of Mr. Alexander Graham. Commissary, who is now engaged in collecting produce and such articles needed for immediate consumption and dispensing there in accordance with the Rules of the Association.

We visited the Store yesterday and found on sale sugar, meats, sair, rice, lard, tex, and a fair quantity of country produce.

If the farmers throughout the country will help by bringing in their produce for sale, in large or small quantities, they will do much good and secure market prices.

No news was received here vesterday from the Chowan. We have heard a rumor that the enemy were fortifying at Winton, but the rumor wants confirma-We should not be surprised at any time, however, to hear of an advance on Weldon from that direction.-Raleigh

The above paragraph is copied from the Raleigh Progress of the 11th inst., and although we hope the report is erroneous, we will not be surprised to learn at any time, that rapid movements are being made at several points to invade the State. The are well calculated to nerve the arms of the Federals and stimulate the Lincoln Dynasty under the impression that they will receive aid and comfort from the people of the old North State. That they will be met at the border and their passage firmly resisted we have no doubt, but that they have been encouraged must soon be made evident.

The troops for home defence had best, commence preparation immediately, to take the field, for like the Progress they "must not be surprised at any time, to hear of an advance on Weldon," and oth-

It is to be hoped, however, that the "Peace" men who have been elected will go with the Home Guard and meet the invaders and with their o'ive branch cause them to turn back without the shedding of one drop of blood.

We hope to see how that farce will

MAXIMILIAN.—It may be safely assumed that the Archduke Maximilian of Austria, will soon be scated upon the Imperial throne of Mexico. . Maxmilian is a member of the Lorraine branch of the proud, imperial house of Hapsburg. This is the ablest dynasty in Europe; and its claim of "divine right" dominion is as firmly established as that of any family that ever ruled over nations. It has wielded the sceptre over different nations of Europe for more than six hundred years. It has witnessed the overthrow and extinction of many strong dynusties. Various and powerful efforts have been made for the destruction of the house of Hapsburg; but it has survived every shock. Its line of succession is yet un-broken; its prestige is yet potent, and even controlling, in the haughty family of

The full name of the Archdoke is Ferdinand Maximilian Joseph. He is the eldest brother of Francis Joseph, the reigning Emperor of Austria, and was born July 6, 1832. When his brother accended the Austrian throne in 1843, he, in his quality of Archduke, became Governor General of the kingdom of Lombardy and Venice. He received a regular military and naval education—has had some experience as commander in the field, and is Vice Admiral of the Austrian Imperial Navy. In 1857, he married Marie Char-lotte, youngest daighter of Leopold, King of Belgium. Impressment of Supplies for the ATRIY.

We call the attention of our readers, and particularly of all officers who are impressing supplies, to General Orders, No. 31. of Adjutant and Inspector General, which we publish below. By this order it will be seen that officers have no right to impress supplies which are on their way to market for sale on arrival, unless by order of a Commanding General, and officers are notified that "any one acting without or beyoud the authority given in these orders will be held strictly responsible."

We invite also the especial attention of farmers and planters, who are represented on all hands' as abounding in everything necessary to the subsistence of man. They will see that protection against seizure of supplies on their way to market is full and complete :

C. S. OF AMERICA, WAR DEPARTMENT,

ADJUTANT AND INSP'T GEN'LS OFFICE, RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 6, 1363. General Orders No. 144.

To relieve prevalent misconceptions in regard to the policy and practice of this Department on the subject of impresament the following being extracts of General Order of March 29th, is reprinted:

ADJUTANT AND INSP'T GEN'LE OFFICE, RICHMOND, VA., March 19, 1863. General Orders No. 31.

In consequence of numerous applications made by various persons to the War Department, it is obvious that some misconception in regard to the instructions of the ecretary of War in relation to the impressment of supplies, must exist on the part of the people, or that the agents of the Government have violated their instructtions: Now, therefore, for the purpose of removing such misconception, and to prevent any violation of these instructions, it is hereby ordered :

1. That no officer of the Government shall, under any circumstances whatever, improve the supplies which a party has for his own consumption or chartof his family, employees or slaves.

2. That no officer shall at any time, unless specially ordered so to do by a General commanding, in a case of exigency, impress supplies which are on their way to market for sale on arrival.

3. These orders were included in the instructions originally issued in relation to improvement by the Secretary of War; and the officers exercising such authority are again notified that "any one acting without or beyond" the authority given in those instructions will be held strictly responsible

In conformity with the foregoing, to prevent any inconsiderate action on the part of officers or agents charged with the duty of impresement, they are enjoined, until further orders; (which will not be given unless under imperative exigencies for the supply of the army,) not to impress any necessaries of subsistence, to man, owned by producers, in transitu to market, or afresults of the recent elections in the State, ter arrival at market, unless retained an unreasonable time from the consumers.

By order, S. COOPER. [Signed.] Adj't and Insp. Gen'l.

NARROW Escare. - This morning about one o'clock, or a little after, the blockaders made an effort to capture the blockade running steamer Banshee—one in her wake —one abreast, and the 3d in the Banshee's front. Several shot were fired at the B., but no attention being paid to them, she made her way, as rapidly as possible, for Fort Fisher, and arrived up to town this morning about 9 o'clock, with a shot hole in her eide, about 18 inches above water. some distance aft of her wheel house .-The ball lodged in her hold, where it yet remains, the cargo not having been removed so as to get it out. Her foremast was also cut with grape, and her rigging considerably damaged. At one time, we learn, one of the blockaders was within about 30 yards of the Banshee, and hailed her to stop, but the indomitable courage and perseverance of the B's commander was such that he bid defiance to his wouldbe captors. The result was the saving of his vessel and cargo, and bringing all safely into port.

From what we have been able to learn, similar management and resolute determination on board the C. S. Steamer Cornubia, might have saved that vessel also .-But we do not wish to be understood as attaching any blame to the commander of the Cornubia, her officers, or even the crew, What one man will risk, another will not. So we conceive it was with the commanders of the two ships, as they appear to have both been bemmed in, in a similar manner. It is proper to state that it was not known on board the Banshee that her hull had been pierced until she arrived inside. - Wilmington Journal.

CAPTURE OF THE C. S. STEAMER CORNU-BIA. - The C. S. Steamer Cornubia, Commander Gale, was driven on shore about 24 o'clock on Sunday morning the 8th inst., about 13 miles above Fort Fisher, by ceeded in towing her off between three and four o'clock same morning. Commander Gale, the 1st and 2nd cooks and one passenger remained on board, and were captured with the steamer . The balance of the crew made their escape, and most of them have arrived in town.

The Cornubia was from Bermuda, and and on board an ascorted cargo for the Government, -lbid.

We are indebted to the Chief Engineer A. Heistand-who made his escape from on board the Steamer Corpubia, yesterday bune of the 24th ult; the Bermuda Gazette of the 3d, and the Advocate of the 4th inst. In the Casette of the 3d, we find the an nouncement of the arrival of the Confederate Steamer Advance from Wilmington, at that port. It may not be amiss to state that the Advance is not a Contederate States Steamer. That is, she does not belong to the Confederate States Government, any more than our printing office does .- Ibid.

"Cheating luck never thrives," is school-boy proverb that Mr. Lincoln has illustrated in his attempt to gain an advantage as to the prisoners captured by the two belligerents. In order to deprive us of the benefit of the prisoners captured by us and paroled in Pennsylvania, he established as a rule, of which he afterwards notified us, that prisoners captured must be reduced to actual possession, and offered for exchange either at Vicksburg or City Point; and that no mere paroles would be binding, unless contracted for by opposing commanding generals. This rule, how ever, came too late to cover the case in Pennsylvania, which called it forth, and to which Lincoln seeks to apply it; but it came just in time to release from their paroles six thousand Confederate privates captured at Port Hudson, and discharged on their parole by Gen. Banks. Lincoln, in the attempt to gain an advantage by a sudden expedient, has failed in his design, and has released the paroles of probably as many as ten thousand Confederate sol-He tried to cheat luck, and luck diers. cheated him.

The following letter from our Exchange Commissioner we find in our Southern exchanges:

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA, WAR DEPARTMENT, Richmond, Va., Oct. 10, 1863. Lt. Col. N. G. Watts, Mobile, Ala:

Bin: All the prisoners taken at Port Hudson and those paroled by Gen. Banks, are free to go to duty. Neither our Gov-erament nor the Federal, recognize the parole. A General Order to this effect will issue in a few days. All Confederate prisoners who have been delivered at any other point than Vicksburg or City Point can immediately return to their commands, where such delivery was made since 23d of May last.

You need not recognize any parole given since the 23d May last, which was not in pursuance of a distinct agreement made between the commanders of the two opposing armies. Prisoners must be reduced nto possession and delivered either at Vicksburg or City Point, unless there is some distinct agreement to the contrary made by the "commanders of two oppos-

The deliveries made at Mobile or Port Hudson will not be recognized. All such can immediately return to duty. The Federals have forced us to assume this position.

There is no danger to our people in re turning to duty, because the Federal re-cognize the full force of the rule and acquiesce in it. They have done the same thing with the captures made by us.

Respectfully your ob't serv't. ROBERT OULD, Agent of Exchange.

"Vox Populi, Vox Del." From the Wilmington Journal.]

We hardly know who is entitled to the paternity of this expression, but this we do know that many other catch words and cant phrases, it is totally untrue, and not far from being absolutely blasphemous.

The voice of the people is but the joint expression of a number of trail, sinful, taltible creatures, and as it is evident that the aggregate of the people cannot rise above the average character and abilities of the several individuals, composing this aggregate, it is folly, it is worse than folly, to liken the voice of this aggregate to that of the emniscient, infallible and immutal ble Creator.

So far are even the demagogues who are tond of paying court to the populace from believing that the woice of the people is the voice of God, that they have no hesitation. while submitting to a popular decision, to express their dissent from it, and set to work to have it reversed. If Mr. Demagogue supports A, as the advocate of a certain measure, and B is elected as the advocate of an opposing measure, what does the aforesaid Mr. Demagogue do? Does he quietly submit. to this action as final-as the voice of God-or does he go to work to have this action reversed at the next election. He says the people were mistaken, they were misled, they were not fully informed in regard to the facts of the case, etc. This would strike people as a strange way to talk of "the voice of God." Has God two voices which contradict each other? Has he a voice in the North and another in the South? Has be one voice in Massachusetts and another in South Carolina? The voice of the people in New England is totally contradictory of the same voice in Georgia or Alabama. Can both be the valce of God?

Now it is evadent that the people are not intallible and that their woice is not the voice of God. But it the people are thus liable to err, he'w much more so hereditary monarche and aristocrats. The peo-ple can have no interest in conspiring against their ourn liberties, nor against the liberties of their country. A whole people cannet easily be bribed, save by flattery and large promises, whereas the minions of a mo narchy, being few in nums ber, may easily be brought over. A re-publican form of Government,—the Gov-ernment of the people where the people know how to place certain checks upon themselves, and to respect these checks, is no doubt the best human agency for the purpose of government; but after all it is but a human agency, and therefore weak and fallible, because depending for its working upon weak and fallible creatures. working upon weak and fallible creatures, whose voice it is folly and blasphemy to compare to, or to call, "the voice of God." It is no such thing. It is the voice of man -e voice 100 that is apt to veer around like the wind and change its tone at every election.

The fulsome flattery and errant false. hoods of demagogues have done much barm-perhaps we might say all the harm that has been done upon this continent .-The people—the mere majority, were told that they could do no wrong-that their voice was the voice of God, and hence the reckless disregard of established institutions and of vested rights both of States and of individuals. Hence the aggressions of the North-hence the necessary resistance of the South-hence all our

GUERILLAS AGAIN AT WORK IN KENS TUCKY .- The Louisville Democrat announces that a force of guerillas are again at work in that State. They number from 200 to 700, and are commanded by the 'notorious' Richardson. It says:

They entered the town of Columbia, Adair county, on Tuesday night robbed the stores of their contents and stole all the good horses in their neighborhood. when they left in the direction of Greensburg. Green county. They also robbed the stores here, and carried off all the good horses in the neighborhood. They robbed the bank at this place of $16,000 in Kentucky money, and $9000 in greenbacke; after committing all manner of depreda. tions they left, moving in the direction of Bardstown.

At a late hour of Thursday night, they reached Bardstown and entered the place without opposition, as no Federal troops were stationed there. Here they burned (as our informant states) the depot, to-gether with a locomotive, five or six cars and some ten thousand bushele of wheat. besides a large quantity of produce and provisions. Here, as elsewhere, they entered the stores and robbed them of everything of value that they contained. They cut the telegraph wires, but did no dam age to the train. Early yesterday morning they left Bardstown, but in what direction they moved, we have not been in-formed. It is the general belief that they moved off towards the Lebanon branch of the Mashville road.

FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 11.

Slow firing continues to-day, from the eremies land batteries and one monitor. There has been no report received from the Fort this evening.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 12. The Yankees displayed a calcium light last night from the raft opposite Cummings Point, illuminating the harbor and Fort Sumter. Fort Moultrie knocked it over once, but it was shortly replaced. The firing was heavy during last night and this morning.

Only one casualty-a sergeant slightly wounded.

A dispatch from Fort Johnson reports a Yankee fight on Morris Island. About 10 o'clock last night two detachments met between Gregg and Wagner and mistaking each other for the enemy, fired. A discharge of several hundred small arms was heard.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 12. The enemy has kept up a moderate fire from their mortar battery and two monitors on Sumter all day.

One monitor and a wooden gunboat moved up Sullivans Island, about 12 o'clock, and shelled our batteries about an hour, but did no damage.

A shell from Simpkins exploded in the midst of a party engaged mounting another heavy gun at Gregg. Several were seen carried away on litters.

No report from the Fort this evening. The harbor is again illuminated to night by the Yankee calcium light.

The shelling from the mortars is still going on.

FROM ABINGDON, VA.

ABINGDON, VA., Nov. 11. A number of Morgan's men, who have escaped from Northern prisons, are arriving daily. They state that a terrible system of guerilla warfare is being waged in Kentucky. The citizens are being murdered and their houses burned. ATLANTA, Nov. 11.

Reports from the front state that the enemy is advancing his line of works around Chattanooga, and that he is supplying them with new batteries.

A Yankee forage train, with two regiments of cavalry as escort, went up Look-Out valley and returned. Supplies for Chattanooga are constantly crossing Brown's Ferry.

Our cavalry are reported as being at Lenoir's Station, twenty-one miles from Knoxville.

A turther correspondence between Ould and Meredith, relative to the exchange of prisoners has been published. The former, under date of October 20, proposes that all officers and men, on both sides, be released in conformity with the provisions of the cartel, and the excess on the one side or the other to be paroled. Meredith replies at length, and charges that a system of exchanges was first interrupted by the Confederate Government, in declaring its purpose to make certain distinctions in the treatment of a particular class of troops, and here refers also to the charges that Ould improperly declared exchanged a large portion of the troops captured and paroled by his hands. He proposes the delivering of prisoners in our (Yankee) hands, for whom there are no equivalents, or comparatively few.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 10.

At a convention of representatives of the several banks in this State, in which the following banks were represented, viz:-Bank of the State of South Carolina, Bank of Charleston, Planter's and Mechanic's Bank of South Carolina, Bank of South Carolina, State Bank of South Carolina, Union Bank of South Carolina, South Western Railroad Bank, People's Bank, Farmer's and Exchange Bank, Commercial Bank of Columbia, Merchant's Bank of South Carolina at Cheraw, Bank of Georgetown, Bank of Chester and Planter's Bank of Fairfield, the following was adopted:

Whereas experience has demonstrated that the dues to be collected by the Government, and for which Treasury notes are made receivable, are inadequate to absorb a sufficient amount of the notes, to prevent to report favorable thereon, and recomthe evils of an excessive paper currency; and it is deemed essential to the interests of the people and of the Government that the right to pay all Government dues in their issues should be waived by the people to a certain extent, and measures be adopted by the Government to redeem or fund the entire amount of the said issues, or so much as shall reduce the sum of the currency to two hundred millions ($200,000,-600) or less. For the accomplishment of this object, the following measures are recommended to the country and the Govern ment by this meeting:

1. That a new issue of coupon bonds be made to the amount of one thousand mil lions of dollars, the brinds bearing six per cent. interes:-the coupons payable annu-

That an 'Act be passed levying a tak of sixty millions of dollars, to be collected annually during the whole period of the said loan, for the payment of the interest on the above bonds. That the said tax shall be paid in coin, and that the coupons of the above bonds be received in the payment of this tex in lieu of coin.

That before the said bonds shall be offered for sale in any other manner, they shall first be apportioned among the States of the Confederacy, and that a commissioner be appointed for each State to make known to the tax payers in each Collection Dristrict the necessity of providing themselves with a sufficient amount of bonds to pay this specific tax, and who shall sell at par, in each District, the amount of bonds required; and that Treasury notes of all issues be received in payment for the bonds.

4. That all existing distinctions between Treasury notes of different issues and dates

5. That the interest on the stock of the fifteen millions loan be paid by checks on the Treasury, and that the said checks be received in payment of the export duty on cotton in the same manner as the coupons on the bonds of the same loan.

6. That a five per cent. call loan be established similiar to the first or original call loan, and that all Treasury notes be received at the Treasury therefor; and that the present five per cent. and four per cent. call loans be abolished.

7. That the right of the holders of Treasurv notes which upon their face are fun dable in eight per cent. stock, ought to be recognized, and an eight per cent. stock. at a short period, be provided for that purpose; and also that all the privileges attached to the original six per cent. eall loan

8. That an increased duty be levied on all imports and exports during the continuance of the war, and that the same be collected in coin or approved bills on England or France.

9. That an Issue Department he created by the Government and kept seperate from the Treasury Department, whese duty it shall be to supply a new issue of Treasury notes in exchange for the amount that may remain in circulation of the present issues and that the new issues shall express on the face of the bills that the same are re ceivable in payment of all public dues except such as are specifically required to be paid in coin.

10. That there should be an issue of bills of a large denomination, say $1,000, $5,-000 and $10,000, sufficient to facilitate the transmission of funds and the settlement

The following gentlemen were appointed a committee to present the foregoing to the convention of bank representatives, to be held at Augusta on the 16th inst. Messrs. George A. Trenholm, Chas. M. Furman, M. C. Mordecai, Geo. S. Cameron, Allan

Death of an Editor.

James M. Henderson, Esq., a native, we believe, of North Carolina, (says the Lancaster Ledger.) died at this place on the 5th inst., from pulmonary disease, contracted in the military service. Tr. Henderson was at one time engaged in this office in the capacity of Foreman. Subsequently he edited, consecutively, the Concord (N. C) Sazette and Chapel Hill Gazette. He was a young man of considerable energy and spirit, with gentlemanly and agreea ble manners. His remains were interred in the Presbyterian Church Yard on Friday with religious and military honors.

Confederate States Commissioners Report.

The following is the Report adopted by the Commissioners appointed under the Act of Congress of the Contederate States, to regulate impressments, at the sitting of their Convention held in Augusta, Ga., on the 26th ult:

REPORT.

The Committee of one from each State to whom was referred the preamble and resolution offered by Commissioner Burge wyn, of North Carolina, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave mend their adoption by the Convention.
WVI.2 W. MASON, Chairman.

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS.

Wuekeas, it is obvious that in the stragrle between the speculators on the one part to gratify their avarice, even to jeo pardizing the safety of our country, and the Government on the other, to protect that country, it becomes important to strengthen the arm of the Government by the action both of the Legislature and the people; therefore, he it

Resolved. That the several States of this Confederacy be requested to pass such laws and take such measures as will most effectually cause the prices fixed by the Commissioners of appraisement in their States, to be observed by sellers and purchasers. And this Convention is of the opinion that the most effective mode of doing this would be for the Legislature to impose a tax on all articles sold over the schedule price for the same equal to the amount of the difference between the schedule price and that at which the arti-

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the several States he requested to have these resolutions laid before their respective State Legislatures. The preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

THE ABUNDANCE OF THE TRANS-MISSISsirri Region .- Illustrations are continualloss of the Mississippi was not an unmitigated misfortune. Late ascounts from Texas show that the farmers are increasing their stocks of sheep and it is said that Government will get three times as much wool next as it has got heretofore.— We were wanting the resources of Texas extravagantly; but now we are obliged to draw upon those of the Eastern States, hitherto unknown to us, as we have never familiarized ourselves with our home statistics further than pertains to the cotton crop. Thus facts will be elicited, we shall learn what we can do, and shall increase our resources by our exercising them; while our flocks and herds of Texas are all the while multiplying to be brought into use when the producing energies of the old States shall be exhausted.

It is known to all who are acquainted with the early history of Kentucky, that the first emigrants settled in small squads, like the first settlements in all other frontier countries, for natural detense. The order was, whenever an alarm was given, all were to run to that place. Early one merning the shouts and cries of a female were heard-all ran to the spot. When they arrived, they saw a bear and a man engaged in combat. They had it hip and high, up and down, over and under, and the man's wife standing by hallooing, "fair play! tair play!" The company ran up and insisted on parting them. The woman said. "No-no-let them fight! for it is the first fight I ever saw that I did not care which whipped."

The N. Y. papers are severe on the new issues of fractional Federal currency. The post is especially fierce, it says :

It appears that the paper on which it is issued is even worse than the engraving or printing, and that it may be so split as to enable any one to paste a fifty cent back on a ten cent front with the greatest ease, thus opening the door to any amount of imposition and fraud. Rub it on the hand a little while and the paper becomes as dingy as any old bit of newspaper.

Major Mosby, the famous Confederate guerrilla, dined in the Marshall House, at Alexandria, on September 30th, and then informed the public of the fact by placard-ing it in chalk on a wall in the town over his own signature.

Revivals.

Editor Charlette Bulletin :

Our hearts ought to be greatly rejoiced at the religious prospects of our country. For more than a year after the war commenced lukewarmness seemed to pervade all the Churches. Nearly all consented to feel that it was more a time to fight than to worship God. But for the last six or eight months from all the information we have been able to gather from many unconflicting sources, no such religious interest has ever, to such an extent, filled the minds of the people of the Southern coun-

If we turn our eye to our army, we find them accompanied by pious and devoted Chaplains from all the different sects and persuasions. They preach with success to their charge, and God in his wisdom and goodness blesses their efforts in the conviction and conversion of hundreds and thousands of precious and immortal souls, men who feel they may be called upon any moment to face death on the bloody field of conflict are not so infidel as to risk their future welfare without a preparation to meet their God in a state of regeneration. They are brought by meditation to realize that except a man be born again he cannot see the face of God in peace.

And oh! how the mothers heart bounds with joy as she receives a letter and reads from the hand of her once wicked son who never before spoke to her in reference to his spiritual welfare, saying pray for me I am a sinner unprepaired to die. Fellowsoldiers have been converted, they have prayed for me and I feel that you will pray aleo.

But we are told the Chaplains and all others who can give religious matruction find a wide field of usefulness on the battle field in administering epiritual comfort to the wounded and dying soldiers of the Southern army.

While we are told our men are so much interested on this all important subject, our enemies are given up to cursing and wickedness thus make the blood chill in our veins. One who passed from our wounded who were pleading for mercy, to the Yankee wounded and dying found the contrast exceedingly great for they were cursing Lincoln, cursing the United States, cursing their Generals, &c., &c., &c.

Surely God will not turn aside from those who so continually call upon him. Let us by these things look up in taith.

And now let us notice the religious interest at home Almost all the Pastors of the different Churches throughout the country have lound blessings attending their efforts in accessions to their member. ship.

The Baptist in our town, Charlotte, have had a glorious revival.

The Presbyterians have been conducting a morning prayer meeting in their Church for several months past, and Rev. Dr. Palmer has been preaching to multitudes for about two weeks. Many through his instrumentality are enquiring the way of salvation.

The Methodist have now been conducting public service in their Church for several weeks, under the Pastorage of Rev. D. J. Simmons, assisted by a local minister of his charge, and other ministers from neighboring circuits, viz: Rev. Mr. Darby, Carpenter, Andrews, Lemmon, Pritchard and Lander. Through the instrumentality of these men great good has been accomplished. Many have been converted; more than sixty added to the Church and the interest is not at all abated. More than a score of weeping penitents visit the alter nightly, Oh! that this glerious work may go on till sin shall receive a blow that may greatly impede its onward course in our land.

Then may we expect the smiles of Heaven to rest upon us. God blessed and prospered the Israelites when they were faithful to him, but punished them severely when they sined against him.

Not Married Yet.

Not married vet? sh. let me think-How horrid is the thought, That eighteen summers have escaped. And still I'am not caught;

And still-and still-'tis like to be, It things don't after soon-No matter-I'll live on in hope, At least another moon!

As any ever seen ; Ah, wherefore do they keep me back, Ah, why this long delay? No man need ask this maid but once, To name the wedding day.

Address of Hon, James Brane.

Hon. James Drane, on taking the chair of President of the Mississippi Senate, to which he was elected by acclamation, made a short, neat, chaste and patriotic speech, which the "Mississippian Extra" reports substantially as follows :

SENATORS: -- In entering upon the discharge of the duties, which you, by your kindness have assigned me, I beg to return you my thanks for the honor conferred in selecting me to preside over your deliberations; and I pledge you my best efforts to deserve that honer, by a strict, prompt. faithful and impartial discharge of all the duties devolving on me as your presiding

These duties are sometimes difficult, yet I trust, by your aid and that general forbearance and indulgence always extended by the Mississippi Senate to its presiding officer, that I shall be able to discharge them acceptably to you, creditably to myself, and useful to the country.

The circumstances that have convened us in this city, instead of Jackson, the place known to the constitution and laws of our State for the meeting of the Legislature admonish us that grave duties and high responsibilities rest upon us.

From without, an enemy more cruel than the untutored savage, and more in olerant and fanatical than the blind crusader, wages against us a war of revenge, conquest and subjugation; whilst within, we have an enemy, whatever may be his professions, who is waging a war upon the credit and currency of the Confederate States, upon which we must rely for success in this struggle. Men everywhere have sought salety from danger under our exemption laws, but have soon torgotten the obligations imposed by these laws, and instead of becoming producers at moderate prices, as these laws wisely intended, have become extortioners, wringing the last cent from any victim whose necessities have placed him in their power, without regard to person or condition.

Whilst the more arduous and dangerous duty of defending us against the former, is assigned to our gallant army in the field, let it be ours to look after the latter, and see to it, that in addition to the toils, hardships and dangers inseparable from a coldier's life, we do not add cares for loved ones left at home.

Promising you my hearty co-operation in any measure to accomplish a result so desirable to every christian and patriot, and invoking the blessing of Heaven on our labors, I again tender you my thanks for the bigh honor you have done me.

I am now ready to take the oath of office and enter upon the discharge of its duties.

Wipows .- We subscribe to the sentiments expressed in referrence to that respectable class of the community, which is the subject of the following article, but we would not take upon ourselves to solve the difficulties suggested .- Jackson Mississippian. "Young widows are always blithe .-

They ever meet one with a smile and flattering word. Can any one tell why !-Young widows pay very scrupulous attention to dress. None know so well as they what colors, black or otherwise, are best suited to their complexions, or what tricks of millinery beet serve to heighten the beauty of their form. Their knowledge of this subject they will put in practice. Does any one know why? Young widows, if at first pleasant, gay and agreeable, through affectedness, presently become really so, through habit. It is said, she who is married a second time is a better wite to her second husband. Whe can give the reason, if I have not given it? Young widows are better pleased with old bachelors than with widowers. What can be the reason' Young widows are the most charming part of creation-the envy of one sex and the beloved of the other.

The celebrated Gilbert West and Lord Lyttleton, both mon of acknowledged talent, had received the principles of infidelity from a superficial view of the Scriptures .-They agreed together to expose what they termed the imposture of the Bible, and Mr. West chose the Resurrection of Christ, and Lord Lyttleton the Conversion of St. Paul, as the subjects of their criticism. Both sat down to their respective tasks, full of prejudice, and a contempt for Christianity.— But what was the result? They were both converted by their endeavors to overthrow the truth of the Scriptures. They came together, not, as they expected, to exult over an imposture exposed to rificule, but to lament their former mbelief, and to congratulate each other that they had discovered the truth of revelation. They published their inquiries, which form two of the most valuable treatises now existing, in favor of the truths of God's word, one entitled "Observations on the Conversion of St. Paul," and the other, "Observations on the Resurrection of Christ,"

FROM NORTH GEORGIA AND TENNESSEE. Major Long, of East Tounessee, was arrested by Burnside some time ago, and condemned to be hung. It was alleged that he was recruiting within Federal lines. When Col. Clift was captured, he was thus engaged, in this business. General Bragg at once dispatched a messenger to Burnside, with the assurance that if Major Long was executed Col. Clift would suffer the same fate. While Col, Clift was under this sentence, his son, one of the bravest men in the Southern army visited him. The meeting is described as extremely touching. The tather bowed his head in touching. The tather bowed his head in sorrow and shame, and untered not a word; the son gave him his hand, stating that a fathomless abysses now seperated them, and that he could only bid him adieu and ask God to pardon his betrayal of his State. The answer of Burnside to the demand of Bragg was, that he had not heard of Major Long. The interence is that Long has already been executed, and it is probable that Gol. Clift is doomed.

CHARLOTTE:

Wednesday Morning, November 18, 1863.

Special attention is directed to the proposition made by our correspondent X. as published in another column. The call is seasonable, and we hope it will receive a prompt and liberal response among our fellow-citizens. Let every man who may be able to do something call upon the committee and help in finishing the House of God.

Among the North Carolinians taken prisoners at the battle of Chicamauga was Col. J. J. Scales, a bold. dashing and fearless young man who is a brother of Brig. Gen. A. M. Scales of Gen. Lee's army. Their father, Dr. Rob't Scales of Rockingham, had six sons in the army, all volunteers, one of whom -a gallant and heroic boy -tell before Richmond, nobly baring his bosom to the storm of shot and shell. Gen. Scales is one of the most gallant officers in the army, and has been wounded several

MR. EDITOR :- Probably no town in the State has had more frequent calls made on its citizens for contributions than Charlotte, and I know that the citizens have been very liberal in their donations recently, but I hope they will allow me to suggest the importance of finishing the Methodist Church building in this place. The basement room, now used by the Church, is very uncomfortable in the winter time, and is inadequate to accommodate the congregation. A few thousand dollars will finish the building, or at least put it in a condition so that it can be used for public worship. I presume the citizens are familiar with the pecuniary embarrassments of the Church, and it is unnecessary to say anything on that point. Will not the "monied men" of this community make one more contribution for the purpose of completing was willing to work for it, and that he was the building? Who will lead the list with a tailor, was furnished by the officer with one thousand dollars?

Those who feel disposed to contribute will please make it known to Capt. Thos. H. Brem or Wm. J. Yates, Building Com.

We have before us a column of the New Orleans Era, giving a minute account of the funeral ceremonies of a negro Captain in the negro regiment raised by Beast Butler in New Orleans. The great desire of the Yankees now being to make the "colored brethren" do the fighting, nothing was omitted that could give pomp and display to the obsequies of this poor fellow, whom they had pushed up to the slaughter. The true Yankee will praise any body who will get killed in his place, and will cheerfully write his obituary; and especially any one who will undertake to bell the Southern cat. And with an eye to business more than to grief, he endeavors to make his very funeral lamentations, electioneering devices; and eagerly looks out from under his handkerchief to see the effect.

The Yankees who have been persecuting the negro ever since they imported and sold him, have added a mountain to their guilt in the present war. They are sacrificing the lives of multitudes of these poor creatures in the most cruel and cowardly manner, by making them fight the battles which the Yankees caused.

Correspondence Atlanta Intelligencer.]

Mr. Lindsay, member of the British Parliament, has lately made an eloquent address on American affairs, before the Middlesex Agricultural Society, in which he takes issue with Lord Russell on the opinion lately expressed by the Minister for Foreign Affairs, to the effect that the majority of the people of England sided with the North in the controversy which that section has waged egainst the South. Democrat copyuntil 28d.

He denied that Earl Russell had spoke the sentiments of the country or of the House of Commons on this subject "The noble Lord," he said, "did not express the sentiments of the people of England when be said that the sympathies of the nation were with the northern section of that great people, now unhappily engaged in war."

Commenting on Lincoln's proclamation, of freedom to the slaves, he says it practically means :

"Massacre your masters, massacre your mistresses, and massacre their children, so that you may obtain your freedom. Instead of being a humane proclamation, it was, in fact, a specimen of the most horrible barharity, and a more terrible proclamation, than had ever been issued in any part of the world."

On the subject of ship-building for the Confederates, he says:

"If was said they ought not to allow ships to be built in this country for the Southern States, but ought they to allow cannon and ammunition to go out of this country to supply the Northern States? He could not see why they should prevent the Southern people being supplied with ships while the Federals continued to be supplied with arms."

In conclusion: "He believed that he only spoke the sentiments of a large majority of the people of this country, when he said it would be impossible to restore the Union, and in these sentiments he believed the House of Commons joined."

It is agreeable to hear such statements made by distinguished and influential members of the British Parliament. The independent course pursued by our Government in re-calling our Commissioners from the Court of St. James, will be like to increase, rather than lessen, the number of our friends in that country.

Escape of two U. S. Officers from Richmond-Perilous Journey to the National Lines. From the Baltimore Sun of the 7th.]

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 5 .- The mail boat, Thomas A. Morgan, from Yorktown last evening, brought down Major Hinstain and Lieut. D. Von Weitzier, two of our officers who have made their escape from their imprisonment at Richmond. The Major reported that he was captured in North Carolina last July, and with the Lieutenant had been kept in the Libby prison most of the time, until Sunday, the 25th ult., when they made their escape by disguising themselves in retel uniforms, which were obtained in this way:

The Major having represented to the guard that he must have more to eat, and a number of old uniforms to repair. By this means he obtained for himself and the Lieutenant a Major and an orderly's suit, with which they left Libby prison and proceeded to Chickahominy swamp. Here the rebel cavalry sent in pursuit nearly captured them, and discharged several volleys near where they had secreted themselves in the mud, but failed to discover them, and passed on towards Bottom Bridge.

Escaping pursuit thus far, the officers crossed the Chickahominy, but, coming close upon the rebel pickets, had to secrete themselves for three days, till starvation forced them to advance on their perilous journey. In order to elude the rebel pickets, they had to proceed on their hands and knees for some miles, but finally, to their great joy, reached our lines in safety,-They state that our poor captive soldiers at Richmond are dying of starvation. The quantity of food allotted in one week is not sufficient to supply each man for one

TO THE PUBLIC.

I had hoped that I should never appear before the public, and that, at my advanced age of sixty-five years, I should enjoy as much peace and quiet, as is allotted to a patriotic man, during this fiery ordeal through which my country is passing; but it appears that I have become the victim of malice and calumny, by a widely circula-ted report, that I have said "none but slave holders have a right to vote." I teel it due to myself, and to our brave soldiery of whom I am proud, (and for whom I daily offer my humble prayers,) to refute this slander, and to pronounce it a malignant falsehood.

Respectfully, D. A. CALDWELL. Nov. 18'63-d1t*.

CAMP 14TH REGIMENT N. C. TROOPS, November 11, 1863.

At a meeting of Company D, (Cleaveand Blues,) 14th N. C. Troops, held on the 11th inst., Lieut. D. Harmon was called to the chair, and Sergt. W. J. Dixon requested to act as secretary.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting to be to give expression to the emotions of our hearts, caused by the death of our este emed friend and fellow-soldier, WILLIAM A. LONG, who died at Richmond, Va., on the 27th day of July, 1863, from wounds received at the bloody fields of Chancellorsville. The following report was submitted by a committee appointed to draft a suitable preamble and resolutions, and was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, William A. Long, for two years a member of the company, was cut down while in the defence of our liberties, our homes and our alters, therefore,

Resolved 1st. That while we meekly submit to the dispensations of our Alwise Providence, we cannot repress our expressions for our sorrow on account of the loss of one whose manly virtues and estimable qualities endeared him to all who knew Resolved 2d. That in the death of William A. Long our army has lost one of its best soldiers, our country one of its bravest defenders, and the Church of God one of its most exemplary members.

Resolved 3d. That while we may wear no outward badge of mourning, we keenly feel our bereavement, that we will cherish the memory of the departed, and that we will endeavor to imitate his virtues.

Resolved 4th. That these proceedings be published in the "Spirit of the Age" and the "Catawba Journal," and that a copy of them be sent to the family of the deceased as expressive of our condolence.

RICHMOND, Nov. 17. Since the attempt of the Yankees to cross the Rapidan Sunday, nothing has occurred deserving special mention.

It was infantry and artillery, not cavalry that were engaged in the demonstration at Morton's and Raccoon Fords. After a portion of the infantry had crossed under cover of their batteries, the sharpshooters of Rhodes Division advanced upon the enemy and drove them back across the river in short order, killing and wounding about thirty.

The only rumor by mail to night is that the Yankees are moving down the Rapid. an, and the prospect of a battle is apparently receding, neither commander showing any determination to cross the stream separating the two armies. One or the other must advance or go into winter quarters ere long.

The Confederate Fleet.

We make some extracts from the English papers in regard to the latest movements of the Contederate cruisers:

THE VANDERBILT IN SIMON'S BAY-THE CON-FEDERATE FLEET SAILS AWAY.

From the London Shipping Gasette, Oct. 20.]

The Federal paddle wheel steam frigate Vanderbilt, 12 gune, Captain Baldwin, arrived in Simon's Bay August 30th, and left September 11th. The last of the Confederate steamships of war-Alabama, Georgia and Tuscaloosa-left only sixteen hours before her arrival. The Vanderbilt refitted in port, took in nine hundred tons of coal, and was supposed to have gone somewhere between Agulhas and St. Helena. During the interval the Alabama took a short run up the west coast, and returned to Simon's Ray September 16th, having been in sight of land four days, and was repairing her condensing apparatus and refitting when the Saxon left .-Captain Semmes will not, it is said, from motives of policy, seek an engagement with the Vanderbilt, but if blockaded by her in Simon's Bay, will elude his antago-nist, as he did the San Jacinto at Martinique. The Georgia is supposed to have y ne to some distance, and the Tuscaloosa to Augra Pequina, where she landed her cargo of wool, and then cruized off the Cape. Captain Semmes has sold his prize, the Sea Bride. He has not taken any more

WHY SEMMES AVOIDS THE VANDERBILT. From the London Shipping Gazette, Oct. 20.]

In commenting upon the probable consequences of an encounter with the Vanderbilt, Capt. Semmes spoke with much modesty of the power of his own ship .--He said that although the machinery of the Vanderbilt would be a good target in fighting with a steamer, it is not easy to escape from having a broadside. He found that to be the case with the Hatteras. Although he disposed of her pretty easily, it was as much as he could do to prevent her from giving him a broadside. The plan he adopted with the Hatteras was to use his large Blakeley gun from the stern of his ship, and that gun did the work. The gun is an eighty-five pounder, and he thinks that his only chance with the Vanderbilt will be to use it upon her machinery. His opinion is that the Vanderbilt has very much greater speed than the Alabama, and that it will be in for him to get away from her. He does not intend to go and look for her, but he savs that it he has to fight her he' will do his best.

THE ALABAMA AS SEEN AT THE CAPE.

From the Graaff Reinet Herald, August 26.7

What strikes one most on board the Alabama is to see so small a vessel carrying such large metal. She is not much larger, if she is at all larger, than her Majesty's yacht, the Victoria and Albert, and yet she has guns of the largest size. is the smallest vessel with the largest guns and the greatest speed affoat. It is doubtful whether anything upon the waters has a chance of taking her. She would run round all her Majesty's fleet without being taken. She is a pertect yatcht; is said to sail like a witch, and to to steam, without sail, fitteen knots.

SEMMES' CAPTURE OF THE SEA BRIDE.

Prom the Grasff Reinet Herald; August 26.]

The Governor has decided that the Sea Bride has been legitmately captured by the Alabama. Of course this decision is very displeasing to the Cape American Consul. The captors and the captured, on being examined, gave conflicting testi-mony as to the distance from Cape Town, where the capture was made. His Excelcellency could not, therefore, officially, believe either party. So he was obliged to examine the most competent eye-witnesses on shore. He, therefore, selected the signalman on the Lion's Rump and the keeper of the Green Peint and the Mouille Lighthouses, and all three unanimously daclared that the capture was made between four and five miles nearest Green. point, between four and six miles from the nearest point of Robben Island. The Governor's decision is, however, not final; and if the American Consul can find evidence to show that the capture was made within the territorial water jurisdiction of the Cape, her Majesty's Government will, ne doubt, at once give ample redress to the aggrieved parties.

NEWSPAYER CHANGE. - James Gardner, Esq., has withdrawn from the control of the Augusta Constitutionalist. The paper will hereafter be published by Messrs. Stockton & Co .- Charleston Mercury, Nov. 16.

CHARLOTTE:

Thursday Morning, November 19, 1863.

Meeting of Presidents of Railroads. A meeting of the Presidents and Superintendents of the several railroads of the Contederate States is called to convene at Macon, Ga, on Wednesday, the 25th of November. The object is to consider the matter of rates for government transportation.

The editor of the Raleigh Standard 18 so delighted that Dr. Rameay has been elected in the 8th District, indulges in producing a brief lecture specially devoted to the Bulletin (ourself,) in which he advises that we go to Mexico and leave the "scum of society," &c.

We copy the article that our readers may hear or see what the ass has spoken. Here

THE "SCUM OF SOCIETY."-The Charlotte Bulletin of the 31st October said Dr. Ramsay was supported for Congress by the Holdenites, embracing with few excep-tions the scum of society Well, Dr. tions the srum of society" Well, Dr. Ramsay has been elected, and according to the Bulletin "the scum" must be quite numerous in the 8th District. But the Bulletin, like many others with more pride than purse or character, turns up its nose at poor folks. We had rather be poorand live on "the scum" of the earth, than to play toady to would be great men, or

"Crook the pregnant hinges of the knee, That thrift may follow fawning."

We respectfully and kindly advise the Bulletin to sell out and remove to Mexico or some other seaport. The political climate of the 8th District is not wholesome to the Editor. Go to Mexico, Mr. Bulletin where you can enjoy military despotism, torced loans, and mob law to your heart's content. "The scum" can dispense with

We would, could we have foreseen the result of the elections in this State, infinitely preferred being in the company we are in than to occupy the most prominent position with the Holden party.

But hear Holden-the man who acknowledges he slandered Mr. Graham when serving as a hired slave the demcratic party, for party purposes. For such a man to say-"We had rather be poor and live on the scum of the earth, than to play toady to would be great men, or is decidedly ridiculous, for he has been practicing that very thing all his life.

We rejoice to know that we live among a true and virtuous people in the Western section of North Carolina and shall continue to reside here as the home of our choice unless the town of Charlotte should unfortunately be invaded and overrun by Holden's Yankee friends. Then we may try to get away but we will promise not to hide under the bed occupied by Governor Vance to escape the punishment we may have earned by our political independence as a journalist.

We acknowledge that our pride of origin character and devotion to our country is much more important to us than the bulk of our purse. We thank God we are proud although poor, and we would prefer legislation is recommended with regard to to remain poor than to become rich as is W. W. Holden, who has accumulated his wealth by hiring himself to party to do its dirty work-a man who has slandered and lied upon the purest men of the country for party purposes and that he might put money in his purse. We never can take counsel with such a purse proud, yet degraded wretch. You have our opinion Mr. Holden. It has cost you little, but you may profit by it, if in no other manner than by inflaming your malice.

The Abolition Methodists.

The Methodists of Illinois recently met in Conference at Springfield; and passed a resolution in favor of arming the negroes. Gov. Yates and Gen. McClernan were introduced to the Conference, and were received with rounds of applause. The oath of allegiance was administered to the members by Gov. Yates, who spoke for two hours. His speech abounded in profanity and was loudly cheered. Gen. McClernan emptied himself of a political harangue .-Radical delegates were elected to the General Conference. The venerable Peter Cartwright, who had been elected to twelve General Conferences, was rejected for the reason that he was not sufficiently radical. A distinguished minister in Cincinnati has refused to admit Democrats to the sacramental table. So they go.

The Sumter (Ga.) Republican is informa ed upon reliable authority, that fifteen negroes, belonging to Mr, B. F. Adams, of Lee county, died recently from eating too The Afair at Bogersville, Tenn,

On Threday morning thirty three commissione Yankee officers and 702 privates, captured at Rogersville, Tenn., by General Jones, grived in Richmond, and were ver to the prison authorities .handed About axty of them are to be tried by court mertial for deserting our army .-They are East Tennesseeans and belonged to the command of Williams and others, and deserted to join Carter's (Yankee) regiment. The Lynchburg Republican thus describes their capture:

"It seems that General Wm. E. Jones, who commanded the expedition, learning that a force of the enemy was at Rogersville, determined to effect their capture, and with this purpose, advanced upon the place with his own and a brigade com-manded by Colonel Giltner. Upon getting within a few miles of the town, he sent on a small portion of his command to make the attack, and concealed his main body in the woods The attacking party, which the Federals greatly outnumbered, were ordered to bring on a fight and then to retreat, as though they had only, after the commencement of the engagement, found that they were outnumbered. The ruse succeeded admirably, our small force retiring, and being pursued by the enemy until they got past the place of concealment of our main body, who suddenly, and as if by mag & closed in upon their rear, while those who were retreating stopped their apparently hurried flight and offered battle. The contest was soon over, for, surrounded on all sides, and attacked simultaneously in front and rear and on both flanks, no recourse was left the enemy but to surrender unconditionally, which they

Eight of their dead were found on the field, and about thirty wounded, the num-ber surrendering being 884, of whom about 100 are said to have escaped while on the march to Bristol.

A fine battery of four pieces of artillery, 600 horses, 900 mules and 58 wagons, with a quantity of ammunition and Quartermasters' and Commissary stores, were the fruits of this admirably planned and brilliantly executed affair, all effected with the loss of two men killed and ten wounded.

None missing.

Message of the Governor of Ala. bama.

The message of Governor Shorter, the outgoing Governor of Alabama, was communicated to the Legislature of that State on the 9th inst. It is a sensible and practical document.

The finances of Alabama are in a sound condition. The balance in the I'reasury was $311,155 86. A large portion of the message is devoted to the discussion of affairs, which are of local interest.

A further provision for the support of the families of indigent soldiers is recome mended. Some irregularities in the execution of the impressment law, by both State and Confederate officers, are pointed out, as well as defects in the acts them-

An improvement of the Militia system is suggested, rendering its organization more uniform, and its service more efficient.

An advance of salaries is recommended as an act of justice to all public functionaries, in the present depreciated state of the currency.

A portion of this State paper is worthy of special commendation, in which further the retailing of spirituous liquors, as demoralizing both to the army and people.

The message concludes with a brief review of State and Confederate relations, wherein the harmonious action of the Government of Alabama with that of the Confederacy, is set forth in terms of congratulation, and justice is done to the motives of the latter, where irregularities have arisen as to acts of administration.

[Southern Guardian.

YANKEE PRISONERS .- The morning report of the Libby Prison at Richmond Friday, shows the following number of Yankee prisoners now in confinement in and around Richmond :- Prisoners of war, 12,741; citizen prisoners, 3; negroes 22total 12,775. Among these are 958 commissioned officers of different grades, from Brigadier General down to Third Lieutenant. There are also 84 Surgeons in the lot. Seven hundred of these prisoners were on Friday last sent to Danville, and 700 will be sent daily to that point, until 4000 are thus disposed of. It is stated that several thousand will also be sent to Lynchburg .- Petersburg Express.

HAS NOT RESIGNED .- Major General Cheatham of Gen. Bragg's army, has not resigned. The Montgomery Advertiser of the 9th, says:

Major General Chertham, whose name for gallantry is not exceeded by any man's in the Tennessee army, passed through here Sunday on his way to Mobile, but will return in a few days to take his place before Chattanooga.

VIRGINIA CONFERENCE.—The next annual session of the Virginia (M. E.) Con-Les county, died recently from eating too ference will commence at Richmond city, heartily of the Chineses sugar cane syrup. on Wednesday next, Nov, 18.

Why Active Operations are not Resumed.

The Cincinnati Gazette publishes the following from a well informed correspondent at Chattanooga, which, it is said, throws a good deal of light on the situation at that point. The following is the editorial summary of the Gazette:

The telegraphic report that our forces had driven the rebels from Lookout Mountain, being about six miles from Chattanooga by the river, but only about two across the neck of land. While Hooker's movement was making from Bridgeport, the commander at Chattanooga sent down pontoons in the night with troops, 'who effected a landing below Lookout, and bridged the river with the pontoons, by which more troops were crossed.

Hooker drove the enemy from a high ridge west of Lookout, and separated from that and Raccoon Mountain by a valley, making a strong position commanding the river, which the enemy held stub-bornly, but were finally driven from it by the brave charge of our troops.

"This success gives us the use of the river to supply Chattanooga, with only about two miles of wagon transportation. Two steamers are there now in use, and the question of supplies, which had come to a point that seriously threatend our occupation of Chattanooga, is now settled.

The enemy hold Lookout Mountain, and have five heavy guns there. The dis tance from their battery to the town is three miles, and the height above town is over 2000 feet.

"Their shell reach the town, but without any accuracy of range, and, so far, their firing has shad little effect. It is enough, however, to make them disagreeable neighbors for permanency. To dislodge them will require a detour to their rear similar to that by which Rosencrans caused the evacuation of Chattanooga .-This, of course, can only be made by a force large enough to stand a general engagement. All of this shows the requisites for holding Chattanooga, and confirms the skill of the movements by which it was taken. By time and degrees and a greatly increased force, the army is now recovering the ground which was all taken by a skilful stragetic movement that only required more support to make it complete and decisive.

"It is obviously necessary to create a great depot of supplies at Chattanooga as a base for further operation in that line .-But it would hardly be safe to gather large supplies where they might be reached by the enemy's shells from Lookout Mountain. Even if not actually projected, they might be hazardous to the accumulation of large stores. To make this depot safe, it would seem to be necessary to dislodge the enemy from Lookout. This will require a march similar to that made by Rosencrans, and a general battle, unless Bragg withdraws and gives up any attempt

But if the season is too late for this general movement there are other resources. By the vigilance and providence of General Rosencrans' fortifications in the rear of Chattanooga were well forward when our army fell back to that place. In three days they were in such a state that ten thousand men could have hold against assalt by any force. It is said they could now be held by five thousand men. Thus it will be seen that our occupation of Chattanooga does not not make it necessary that our principal army or principal sup-plies should be at that place. It would be convenient, but not by any means indis pensable.'

A MARRIAGE AT THE PRESIDENTIAL MANsion,-The Richmond correspondent of the Atlanta Appeal, writes November

By the way there can be no impropriety in mentioning the fact that a wedding is to take place at the President's mansion next week, when a sister of Mr. Davis is to marry a grandson of the late Ex-President Tyler. Such an event in Yankeedom would make a prodigious sensation. Jenkins would celebrate it in his most malifluous style for the benefit of the readers of the Herald, and an engraving of the nuptials would go forth to the world in the illustrated weeklies. There is a coincidence in the happening of the event that may be worth noticing. The father of the bridegroom elect, when he espoused the daughter of John Tyler, celebrated the first marriage that was ever performed in the White House at Washington, and his son will be a principal in the first marriage that will take place in the mansion of the President of the Confederate States.

ADVICE TO PLANTERS .- The recommendation has been made, that the planters should immediately take measures for winter crops to relieve the demand for grain and provisions, and that they should make their own clothing and supplies. The advice is pertinent. We have a war of uncertain length before us, and consequent hard times. Provision, clothing, shoer, etc., are high and in demand. These things our planters can make. Let the planter enlarge the grain crop; sow wheat. rye, barley; save peas, potatoes, pumpkins; make their own clothing for family and negroes; and have hides and make shoes for themselves and slaves. REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION. Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1868, by J. S. Thrashire, in the Clerks effice of the District Court of the Confederate States, for Northern District of Georgia.

FROM CHARLESTON

CHARLESTON, NOV 17.

The enemy fired about twenty five shots from two guns at Gregg on the city, but failed to do any material damage. No person was injured. It is reported from good observation that one gun burst at the last fire.

Slow firing continued on Sumter all day. No casulties

The present indications are that the enemy intend more extended operations.

No monitors in action. All the monitors have returned.

FROM VIRGINIA.

ABINGDON, VA., Nov. 17 There is a perfect dearth of news to day. The weather is still cloudy and raining. The roads are almost impassable.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, Nov. 17. Since the attempt of the Yankees to cross the Rapidan Sunday, nothing has occurred deserving special mention.

It was infan'ry and artillery, not cavalry that were engaged in the demonstration at Morton's and Raccoon Fords. After a portion of the infantry had crossed under cover of their batteries, the sharpshooters of Rhodes Division advanced upon the enemy and drove them back across the river in short order, killing and wounding about

The only rumor by mail to night is that the Yankees are moving down the Rapidan, and the prospect of a battle is apparently receding, neither commander showing any determination to cross the stream separating the two armies. One or the other must advance or go into winter quarters ere long.

B. G. Brown, radical, has been elected United States Senator from Missouri.

Everything is quiet on the Peninsular. Several thousand Yankee prisoners have been sent from this city to Danville.

The marines captured at Fort Sumter, arrived last night at Libby Prison.
